

WHY NOT

LEKKZY YOUNG

Ivory Coast born and Nigerian singer Lekky Young, whose real name Awotunde Samuel Allen, has narrated his struggles in the music scene to being in the spotlight. Growing up on the street of Apogbon, Lagos Island, an environment which wasn't comfortable for him, He had to put in the music work with consistency, discipline, which abounds in this moment and pace, to dining in city of Kings together with the music dogs of the industry. Lekky consistent hard work and fitting, over the years is currently paying off, as the young star discovers and creates his music niche with a Neo sound, creating a unique voice for himself and his fans, as they can't seem to get enough from him; His following on social platforms has grown with commendable support from his fans and colleagues of the scenes, being the rave of the moment, Lekky Young has gathered millions and thousands of music streams which is evident in his catalog. "2024 seems like a brighter year to the Young star, as we can't wait to unravel more of his music styles, dimensions and impact in Africa and to the world at large.

WHY NOT LEKKZY YOUNG

•How did you come up with the name Lekky Young?

Yh I started music when I was way younger from Jss1 I developed the love for music My indigenous name is Olamilekan then I thought of that and turned it to Lekky ... cz I was Young I just added it at the back and I got Lekky Young.

•Describing yourself using 3 words, how would you be described?

I am Energy.

•What is that notion people believe about that you'll love to change?

•Would you date a fan?

Yes for real only if that Fan is not just beautiful but also can open doors I believe never exists

•If you weren't famous, what would you be up to right now?

If I wasn't famous I would be somewhere somehow doing music and listening to my Melodies and stories in my notes

•What was growing up like?

Growing up was HARD. I grew up in the middle of A war ... which had me traumatized and in the process I lost my dad . My mum was not the attention giver type but she was there to provide food .. one day I decided food wasn't enough anymore I packed my bags at age 15-16 and i left home . Till date...

•Your most embarrassing childhood memory?

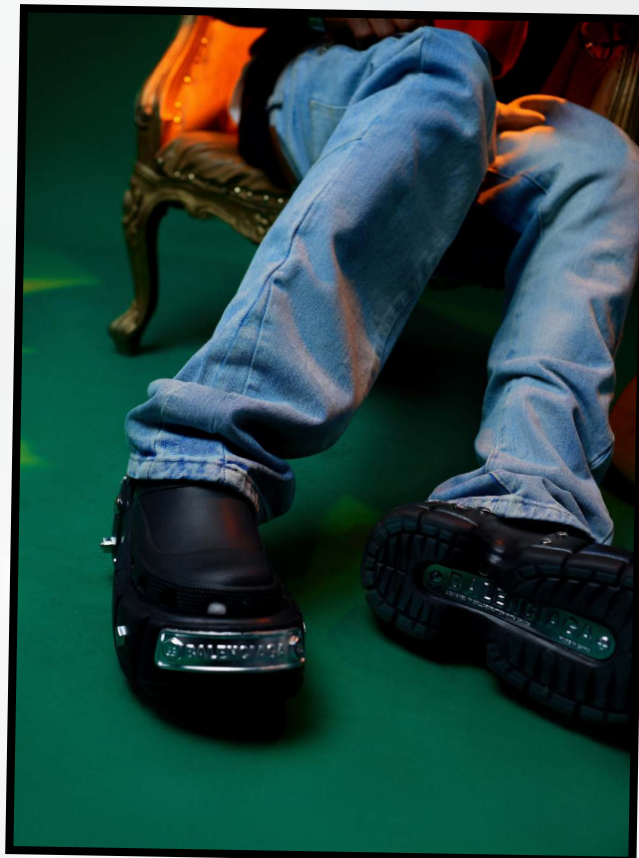

I broke my front teeth when I was 9 I fell on the staircase ... that shit was horrible ... then I went to school and my friends seeing my two front teeth broken I couldn't even smile with confidence

•What are some things that sound like compliments but are actually insults?

— to me personally my gap teeth ... sometimes ppl compliment my smile is extraordinary but I know my doctor tells me different.. he wants me to get a brace to close the gap ...

•What's the weirdest experience you've had with a fan?

A fan stopped me in the Uk and asked me to sign on her breast and she was with a male frd... I thought It was a trap cz wtf I dont even know if he's her boyfriend I froze

•Why Music ?

Music is all I live for . It's the inspiration behind my daily activities the origin of my true happiness ... music is the real love I can't get from another human being and yes I fell in love listening to my voice Only.

•What's your regular day like?

My regular day is crazy I wake up every day 10am I pray first .. Eat breakfast steam my oesophagus with mid hot water ... head to the shower then get on to work straight till 4pm have a small nap till 6 -7 pm then go refresh for a new energy then get on working till 2am from 2am till 4-5 I get on busy listening to my songs and finding errors to correct or listening to new sounds from the other part of the world and try as much to hold the best and write in a note to be my next target . Am wild I can't be limited

•How can you describe the Entertainment industry ?

Dark and Lonely .. you are on your own Few are real whenever you meet with another real one like you don't let it go ... create a family that's the only way you get the best of memories and experience along your journey.
